So the church throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria had peace and was being built up. And walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, it multiplied." Acts 9:31

WHY CHURCH MULTIPLIED?

- 1 Multiplication is God's design for kingdom growth. When the gospel seed finds good soil, it produces "thirty, sixty or even a hundredfold" (Matt. 3:8). The healthy multiplication of disciples and leaders, by God's design, organically leads to multiplying churches.
- 2 Impacting lostness requires a rapid multiplication of churches. On any given Sunday, more than 80% of Kentuckians will not be found attending any kind of church anywhere. Impacting even 1% of that level of lostness requires hundreds of new evangelistic churches.
- 3 Reaching the unreached requires targeted planting. Some of the least reached people groups globally are increasingly living in our neighborhoods locally. Reaching them requires cross cultural evangelism.
- 4 Replanting is the best hope for reaching neighborhoods. Joining God in what he is doing to reach transitioning communities may require faithful remnants to explore new partnerships and pathways.
- 5 There are urgent needs across Kentucky. Come to the Church Multiplied exhibit or go to kybaptist.org/snapshots to learn more about critical church planting needs closer than you think.

How can our convention of churches help you take a step towards multiplying disciples, leaders, or churches?

We are truly 'Together for the Mission'

BY TODD GRAY

GRAY

What an exciting time to be a Kentucky Baptist! Missionaries are being sent, churches are being planted, children in foster care are being cared for, people experiencing natural disaster are receiving ministry, pastors and church staff are being encouraged, preachers are being trained, the lost are being saved and so much more. All of this is happening in Kentucky Baptist churches and because of our gospel partnership through the Cooperative Program.

In 2025, if giving trends remain the same, Kentucky Baptist churches will surpass the $1 billion mark for gospel advancement through CP giving. It is fitting that, as the Cooperative Program has its origins in our state, Kentucky Baptists would lead the way in celebrating what God has done through our combined giving and what God might do as we continue to work together.

In the earlier months of this year an effort began to assemble a group of Kentucky Baptist pastors, lay leaders, agency and institution heads and mission board staff who would work together to help Kentucky Baptists celebrate 100 years of CP giving; make plans for the ongoing education of our churches and their leaders about the gospel impact of our CP investment; and prayerfully consider whether Cooperative Program giving can grow in Kentucky Baptist churches. We believe it can.

The Cooperative Program remains the most effective way for a Kentucky Baptist church to fund an Acts 1:8 ministry touching lives with the gospel in Kentucky, North America and around the world. Thank you, Kentucky Baptists, for your generous and sacrificial giving to fund the Great Commission through the Cooperative Program and may the Lord's blessings abide on your church as you have done so much to help so many.

I pray this year's annual meeting will be another great reminder that we are at our best when we are working Together for the Mission to advance the gospel.

TODD GRAY is the executive director-treasurer of the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at todd.gray@kybaptist.org or (502) 489-3369.

Associations partnering to plan and pray for revival

BY RANDY McPHERON

McPHERON

When my friend Wes Fowler served as president of the Kentucky Baptist Convention, he had a vision that every Kentucky Baptist church would plan a revival. I love the vision of setting aside a special time for your church to be intentional about revival.

When I became KBC president, I was asked if there was anything in particular I would like to emphasize. My heart has been to not only see churches plan revivals, but also groups of churches and associations.

I am blessed to have been part of special meetings involving groups of churches and associations working together. I can attest firsthand that when multiple churches come together — whether it is two or 20 — there is an added blessing to the services.

Periodically, God's people need spiritual rejuvenation. The Israelites understood this. They had special weeks and holy days to draw closer to God. The church should do this, too. It isn't the only way but it is still a good strategy.

The hard work necessary to have an effective revival is worth it. Effective revivals result in God's people being encouraged, lost people coming to faith in Christ, church growth and opportunities for ministry to the community. If you don't like the term "revival," then call it something else. Invite everyone you can to come hear the gospel!

I have been a part of hundreds of revivals and evangelistic events. Not one time has a pastor or church leader ever said to me that their revival was not helpful. Many of them have said to me, even when there weren't any public decisions, that the revival was a blessing to them personally and that they experienced some level of spiritual renewal.

Anything that we can do to encourage one another in this good work, draw closer to the Lord and share the gospel with people who are lost has to be worthwhile.

RANDY McPHERON is the 2024 president of the Kentucky Baptist Convention and associational mission strategist of Rockcastle Baptist Association.

God blesses KBC with gifted staff to serve churches

BY JIM DONNELL

DONNELL

The Lord is blessing the Kentucky Baptist Convention in myriad of ways. A prime example is the quality of people that He continues to bring to the Mission Board staff.

During this past year, we hired Mission Mobilization & Community Ministry Associate Cory Bledsoe, who holds a Doctor of Education degree; Church Planting Group Leader Andrew Eaton, an experienced church planter who grew a church to a current average attendance of 300 per week; and Multi-language Church Planting Strategist Jesus Amaya, who has experience relating to a variety of cultures.

We are thrilled that these men have answered God's call to these roles. We are confident the Lord will use them in very significant ways in the future!

Our Executive Office Team accomplished much during this past year. Here are some examples:

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Led by Troy Fulkerson

- Successfully implemented the roll-out of the new Teams phone system.
- Upgraded audio/visual capabilities throughout the Baptist Building.

COMMUNICATIONS

Led by Lawrence Smith

- Increased social media post impressions by 40 percent — an increase of over 15 million from last year.

Together for the Mission

- Launched the "Together for the Mission" Cooperative Program marketing plan and logo.

ACCOUNTING SERVICES

Led by Becky Harris

- Began the process of replacing our cash receipts system by selecting software, obtaining funding and beginning planning implementation.
- Automated manually performed tasks, including journal entries, clearing checks for bank reconciliations and uploading template for expense reimbursement transactions.

HR & ADMINISTRATION

Led by Shari Rogers

- Hired and onboarded excellent new additions to our support staff in both the Evangelism and Executive Office Teams.
- Finalized the Baptist Building utilization project by disposing of surplus equipment through sales and charitable donations.

TEAM OFFICE

Led by Jim Donnell

- Began developing comprehensive child protection policies and procedures in collaboration with legal counsel and key Mission Board staff.
- Determined that federal wage and hour law does not fairly compensate support staff for travel time incurred to perform their work. Policy revisions will soon be proposed to address this matter.

The past year has been filled with its share of both challenges and triumphs. But we are confident the Lord will provide all we need to fulfill our mission to help churches reach Kentucky and the world for Christ!

JIM DONNELL is the Associate Executive Director for Convention Operations at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at jim.donnell@kybaptist.org or (502) 489-3371.

For Southern Baptists, the best things come from Kentucky

BY MICHAEL CABELL

CABELL

Kentucky Fried Chicken, Ale 8 and Jif Peanut Butter are all Bluegrass State inventions. With that lineup, one could argue the best things in life come from Kentucky.

With all due respect to Colonel Sanders, the most impactful Kentucky innovation is the Cooperative Program. Birthed at First Baptist Murray in the early 1900s, it was implemented as the missions funding strategy by Kentucky Baptists in 1915. Southern Baptists adopted this shared funding philosophy a decade later, in 1925, and named it the Cooperative Program. Over the past year, your Mission Board staff provided the following new opportunities aimed at emphasizing our cooperation as Kentucky Baptists:

BETTER TOGETHER: Celebrating and Understanding the Cooperative Program

This 35-minute presentation has proven to be a superb Sunday or weekday night session for your church or association. Several KBC staff members are experienced in presenting it and would be glad to do so at your invitation.

DISCOVER CP TOURS

Kentucky Baptists had two tour opportunities in 2024 to see firsthand the impact of their church's mission giving. In May, 21 Kentucky Baptists spent the day touring a Baptist Campus Ministry, a Sunrise foster care facility, an association office, the Disaster Relief warehouse and met with a church planter. A group of 13 toured the IMB Learning Center, participated in a sending celebration and attended the plenary session of the IMB trustee meeting.

KBC MESSENGER FELLOWSHIP at SBC Annual Meeting

More than 400 Kentucky Baptists gathered for our inaugural Messenger Dessert Fellowship to spend time with one another and recognize Kentucky as being the "Birthplace of the Cooperative Program."

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM IMPACT VISITS

KBC Executive Director Todd Gray and I have held roughly 200 one-on-one meetings with pastors to explain where every penny of their giving goes and celebrate its impact.

REENGAGING CHURCHES

We continue our work of reengaging churches that are no longer cooperating with our convention. In the first two years of this initiative, 92 churches have resumed giving to missions through the Cooperative Program, with the average length of disengagement being over eight years.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM 100TH ANNIVERSARY

Southern Baptists will mark the centennial celebration of the Cooperative Program in 2025. Your Kentucky Baptist Convention Mission Board staff, pastors and lay leaders are involved in commemorating this on both the state and national levels. Watch for special opportunities over the next year, culminating in a celebration at next year's annual meeting.

MICHAEL CABELL is the assistant to the Executive Director for Convention Relations at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at michael.cabell@kybaptist.org or (859) 753-8601.

2024-2025 Cooperative Program Distribution Plan

This is a detailed explanation for the distribution of Cooperative Program funds received by the KBC from churches and other entities. It should be noted that the KBC Mission Board historically has not spent all budgeted funds in a given year. Any unspent funds will, by Board approval, be transferred to a Board Designated Fund to support future ministries.

* CP distribution between SBC and KBC is a Board agreed upon 50/50 split. The percentages shown here reflect a shared 10% distribution for Cooperative Program Resourcing. This percentage is used to promote, educate and administer the Cooperative Program. These tasks are the responsibility of the state convention, therefore, those funds remain with the KBC.

Comment from the Business and Finance Committee:

The Business and Finance Committee of the Kentucky Baptist Convention meets on a quarterly basis. During this meeting full financial statements are presented for disclosure, review and discussion. Explanations are provided and the Business and Finance Committee is given the opportunity to affirm the transparency of financial data.

In addition a subset of the Business and Finance Committee participates annually in a detailed review of the Kentucky Baptist Convention's audited financial statements.

NOTE: Access to additional financial data available upon request. Please email request for information to Becky Harris, KBC Controller at becky.harris@kybaptist.org.

The Committee on Constitution & Bylaws

BY BEN STRATTON

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee recommends the following two motions with regard to the Constitution and Bylaws:

1. To relocate Article VI paragraph 1 to Article II.

If approved, Article II will now read: The Body was created by churches, for churches, to help churches reach Kentucky and the world for Christ. The doctrinal guideline for this Body and its work shall be the Baptist Faith and Message as adopted and amended by the Southern Baptist Convention, understanding that any cooperating affiliated church has the right to affirm any of the historic Baptist confessions of faith. We also believe that God wonderfully and immutably creates each person as either male and female, and that these two distinct, complementary sexes together reflect the image and nature of God (Gen. 1:26-27). The attempted rejection of one's biological sex is an attempted rejection of the image of God within that person.

If approved, Article VI will now read: "This body has no jurisdiction over the local churches or the District Associations and shall exercise no authority over them."

2. To ratify the following Amendments:

- The doctrinal guideline for this Body and its work shall be the Baptist Faith and Message as adopted and amended by the Southern Baptist Convention, understanding that any cooperating affiliated church has the right to affirm any of the historic Baptist confessions of faith. (2017, Article VI)
- We also believe that God wonderfully and immutably creates each person as either male and female, and that these two distinct, complementary sexes together reflect the image and nature of God (Gen. 1:26-27). The attempted rejection of one's biological sex is an attempted rejection of the image of God within that person. (2023, Article VI)

BEN STRATTON is chairman of the Committee on Constitution and Bylaws and pastor of Farmington Baptist Church in Mayfield.

The Public Affairs Committee

BY CHRIS PARRISH

Standing on Scripture in the political sphere

Kentucky Baptists, thank you for the privilege of allowing each of us to serve this year on your Public Affairs Committee. We take very seriously our responsibility to represent you and to testify to God's good design for all of our communities.

Over the past year, we've spent time meeting with and learning from elected officials and leaders from across the state. Many of these leaders face considerable pressure to abandon the truths of Scripture to score political points and maneuver for greater influence. What a great honor we have as a committee to remind these officials that the biblical convictions of Kentucky Baptists have not changed, and we will continue to advocate for biblical principles.

We should be praying consistently and fervently for these public servants who help to craft the laws and policies that affect all of us. Pray for your Kentucky Baptist Public Affairs Committee, that we would be faithful witnesses to the world. If you have questions, feel free to contact me.

CHRIS PARRISH is chair of the KBC Committee on Public Affairs and pastor of Buck Run Baptist Church in Frankfort. He can be reached at cparrish@buckrun.org.

ON THE PREVALENCE OF PRE-MARITAL COHABITATION IN BAPTIST CHURCHES

WHEREAS, the entirety of the biblical witness establishes that celibacy in singleness and sexual faithfulness in marriage is a central feature of the Christian sexual ethic; and,

WHEREAS, the Genesis account specifically denotes that the formation of a new household and subsequent sexual consummation of a monogamous relationship occurs only upon marriage, typified by the leaving of the parental household (Gen. 2:24; Matt. 19:5-6); and,

WHEREAS, the sin of fornication as a pattern of life is consistently treated in the Bible as evidence of a lack of conversion (Matt. 15:19; Rom. 6:1-2; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; 1 Thess. 4:3; Heb. 13:4); and,

WHEREAS, numerous sound Christian and secular polling outlets have demonstrated the precipitous rise of pre-marital cohabitation as a pattern in purportedly Christian relationships; and,

WHEREAS, Kentucky Baptists have in the past spoken clearly about matters of sexual ethics aimed at patterns both within our churches and looming large in the broader culture; and,

WHEREAS, the faithful shepherding of souls away from grave spiritual danger demands that Kentucky Baptist churches not neglect to speak clearly to those publicly engaged in unrepentant sin that leads to death (Jas. 1:15; 1 John 3:6); now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the messengers to the Kentucky Baptist Convention meeting in Paducah, Ky. on November 12, 2024, exhort the leadership of its cooperating churches to engage in a bold confrontation of this growing threat to our public witness and to the spiritual safety of those entrusted to our care (Matt. 5:13; 1 Pet. 5:2); and be it further

RESOLVED, that we implore our pastors to not merely address this issue deftly, gently, and forthrightly from the pulpit, but also to lead their churches in restorative conversations, pleading with the wayward to return to faithful, biblical Christianity (Jas. 5:20) by preaching the availability of forgiveness through repentance and faith in Jesus Christ; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we call on the members of all Kentucky Baptist churches to support their church leadership as they seek to faithfully discharge their God-given responsibility to not neglect the full counsel of God’s word, extending even to the often-excruciating steps of restorative church discipline (Matt. 18:15-20; 1 Cor. 5:9-13; Gal. 6:1; Titus 3:10); and be it finally

RESOLVED, that we reject any notion that setting forth this standard in any way dilutes the human flourishing or ultimate happiness of any human being, but rather that it brokers for humanity a manifold blessing through alignment to God’s creation order and his design for the benefit of all (John 10:10; 1 John 5:3).

Together for the Mission

Thank you for giving to the Cooperative Program through the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

ON ACCESS TO CHEMICAL ABORTION IN KENTUCKY

WHEREAS, all human beings are imbued with equal value and dignity on account of their creation by God in His image from the moment of conception (Gen. 1:26-27; 9:6; Ps. 139:13; Jas. 3:9), and

WHEREAS, the image-bearing status of human beings is not dependent upon one’s characteristics such as—but not limited to—ethnic background, developmental state, socioeconomic status, mental acuity, physical build, sex, or existence outside of their mother’s womb (Gen. 1:26-27; 5:1-2; 9:6; Jas. 3:9), and

WHEREAS, governing authorities are tasked with serving the common good of all image-bearers within their jurisdiction, which includes upholding precepts of the natural law as set forth in the Noahic covenant, the sixth commandment, and that which is written on the heart (Rom. 2:15, 13:4; Gen. 9:5-6; Ex. 20:13), and

WHEREAS, chemical abortion is a form of murder, and is thus a sinful violation of both God’s divine and natural law which governing authorities have the obligation to prevent as His servants of justice (Rom. 13:4; Ex. 20:13; Prov. 6:17), and

WHEREAS, chemical abortion represents an immense threat to the health and safety of pregnant mothers, further underscoring the duty of governing authorities to restrict its availability, and

WHEREAS, despite Kentucky’s current laws, chemical abortion remains a consistent threat to unborn life and maternal health in the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, by God’s grace, a safe means for reversing the effects of chemical abortion exists and is widely available; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the messengers to the Kentucky Baptist Convention meeting in Paducah, Ky., November 12, 2024, reaffirm our unwavering commitment to protecting the life of all image-bearers from the point of conception to that of natural death; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we commend the Kentucky General Assembly’s record of moving consistently forward to protect pre-born life in recent legislative sessions, while also recognizing that much remains to be done to fully protect pre-born life; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we express our grave concern over the continued proliferation of chemical abortion medication throughout Kentucky at the hands of out-of-state actors who seek to knowingly circumvent state law; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we urge our state leaders to take all necessary steps to prevent any access to chemical abortion in the Commonwealth regardless of the means by which it is sought or the location from which it originates; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we encourage the governing authorities in our Commonwealth to support educating citizens on the harms associated with chemical abortion medication and the possibility of reversing chemical abortion; and be it finally

RESOLVED, that we as Kentucky Baptists will continue in fervent prayer for and service to women considering abortion, that their hearts would recognize the value and worth of the child in their womb, and that they, by the power of the Holy Spirit, would commit to choose life for their child.

ON CHRISTIANS AND THE POLITICAL PROCESS

WHEREAS, the Kentucky Baptist Convention, a cooperative missions-led ministry organization of Baptist churches in Kentucky recognizes severe division and hostility in the political process and discourse in our country; and

WHEREAS, the hostility has led to assassination attempts of a former president of the United States; and

WHEREAS, as a new President and new Congress will assume office in January 2025; and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that God appoints leaders according to His sovereign purpose (Rom. 13:1, Daniel 2:20-21); and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that murder and hatred are evil (Ex. 20:13, Matt. 5:21-26); and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that Christians are to pray for government leaders (1 Tim. 2:1-4); and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that Christians are to love our neighbor, speak with grace, and gentleness, (Matt. 22:39, Col. 4:5-6, Eph. 4:29); and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that Christians are citizens of the kingdom of God, which is to be seen over and above any identification to ethnic or nationalistic origins (Phil. 3:20); and

WHEREAS, Scripture teaches that whatever we do, we are to do it for the glory of God, including our engagement in the political process for the common good (1 Cor. 10:31); and

Women in Christian Leadership

Karen Smith was born and raised in Letcher County and came to faith in Jesus at age 7 at Whitesburg Baptist Church. She married Harold Smith at 16, and they were married 45 years before he passed away. They have five children, 11 grandchildren and one great-grandson.

As a child, she aspired to becoming a missionary but thought that opportunity had passed when she got married. When she and Harold returned to Kentucky after his service in the Air Force, Karen got involved in her church - leading the Girls' Auxiliary, teaching Bible studies, doing outreach, taking children to youth groups and working with the Salvation Army in disaster relief.

It was then that Karen realized this WAS a mission field. She was trained in Kentucky Baptist Disaster Relief in 1992 and has done every job imaginable, including serving as a trainer and a chaplain. But Karen says her first love is the feeding ministry. Disaster relief has taken Karen across the country; from Alaska to Michigan to Florida and around the world, including Iraq; Lesotho in Africa; and Zimbabwe.

Kentucky Baptist Disaster Relief brings help, hope and healing, but - Karen says, "The truth is we bring Jesus."

Kory is married to their daughter-in-law, Katie, and they have blessed Ricky and Celisa with four grandchildren.

In 2023-24, Hardin Baptist Church, under Cunningham's leadership, gave 10.7 percent of its undesignated receipts to the Cooperative Program and that record of faithful giving has been consistent since he became pastor.

The Great Paducah Revival of 1905-1906

BY BEN STRATTON

STRATTON

Dr. J. Edwin Orr was an Irish Baptist preacher, seminary professor and a prolific author. No less a witness than Billy Graham considered him “one of the greatest authorities on the history of religious revivals.”

One of Orr’s most famous articles was “Prayer and Revival,” which detailed Great Awakenings and famous revivals. Yet during the article, he includes the quib: “Take First Baptist Church of Paducah in Kentucky: the pastor, an old man, Dr. J. J. Cheek, took a thousand members in two months and died of overwork, the Southern Baptists saying, ‘a glorious ending to a devoted ministry.’ That is what was happening in the United States in 1905.” Although Orr’s quote was copied repeatedly in books, journals and sermons throughout the 20th century, no other information is ever given. Who was “J.J. Cheek” and what really happened in Paducah in 1905?

In February 1905, First Baptist Church of Paducah called John Simon Cheek to be its new pastor. Cheek was then 41 years old and serving the First Baptist Church of Russellville. The Kentuckian was a native of Cumberland County and graduate of Bethel College.

Like all the pastors in the Jackson Purchase at that time, he was a staunch Baptist in his doctrinal convictions, but combined this with a passion for evangelism.

After much prayer, Pastor Cheek invited Evangelist George C. Cates (pictured here) to begin revival services at First Baptist Church on Sunday, Nov. 19, 1905. A native of Arkansas, Cates was known throughout the South for his fruitful revival campaigns. The previous month Cates had preached an extended revival at First Baptist Church of Mayfield, which resulted in more than 90 professions of faith.

Once the services began at First Baptist, they continued unabated throughout the end of the year. The church met on Thanksgiving Day, and on Christmas Eve, the evening service lasted until 5:30 a.m. Every day, there were two services, one during the day and one at night. On Sundays, the church added a third and later a fourth service during the afternoon. Cates was assisted in all this preaching by Cheek and by Gordan W. Hill, a Baptist evangelist out of southern Illinois.

As the new year dawned, the interest in the revival continued to increase. Every Sunday new believers were baptized into the fellowship of First Baptist Church. Although the sanctuary was large and had a balcony, it was usually full, and Hill would have to preach to the overflow in a separate room. Typically, the night service would be mostly adult men.

Then something amazing happened. The revival spread to the saloons, hotels and railroad shops in downtown Paducah. Workers from First Baptist began sharing the gospel with these patrons, and many were converted.

Saloons were turned into places of worship as the singing of hymns and shouts of glory could be heard coming through their windows.

Revival services at First Baptist Church of Paducah would continue daily until March 18, 1906. By the time the revival concluded, around 1,000 people had joined First Baptist, mostly by their new profession of faith and scriptural baptism. Another 500 had been converted but joined other churches in Paducah. The services had been held for 121 days straight!

While the revival had prospered, the health of J.S. Cheek had not. Cheek then went to Texas to be with family, where he died of pneumonia on March 21, 1906. He was only 42 years old. The Baptist and Reflector newspaper declared, “Dr. Cheek literally laid down his life for the people of Paducah, and his memory will ever be held in warmest affection by them.”

The great Paducah revival of 1905-1906 teaches us many lessons. Perhaps the greatest comes from Malachi 3:6 — “For I am the Lord, I change not.” May our prayer ever be, “Lord, send revival in our Kentucky Baptist churches, just like you did in Paducah 119 years ago.”

BEN STRATTON is pastor of Farmington Baptist Church in Mayfield.

CHURCH CONSULTING & REVITALIZATION TEAM

We have six regional consultants strategically located across our state to serve KBC churches and associations. These men are prepared to assist churches in ALL ministry areas including church revitalization, leadership, deacon ministry, conflict mediation, and search team training. When needed, they work closely with CCR Ministry Consultants who are ministry area specialists. Regional consultants are often viewed as the “face” of the KBC because of their field-oriented focus.

We have five ministry consultants who serve KBC churches and associations across the entire state. These men and women are experts in their assigned areas of ministry including ministry transitions, conflict ministry, Sunday school, discipleship, senior adults, ministry wives, women, children, students, worship, music, church finances, church security, and prayer ministry.

We have four ministry assistants that play a key role in assisting regional and ministry consultants in their work. Team Ministry Assistant Cheryl Frerman also serves as coordinator of the KBC Annual Meeting and liaison to church and associational ministry assistants and the Baptist Ministry Assistants of Kentucky organization.

Revitalize

Equipping Leaders for Healthy Churches

5 marks of church revitalization

BY STEVE RICE

RICE

In my role as Kentucky Baptist Convention Church Consulting & Revitalization Team Leader, I'm often asked about revitalization. How do we define it? How can a church experience it? How can we lead it?

When I began my current KBC role, Dr. Kenneth Priest and I launched the national SBC Revitalization Network, which now includes 41 autonomous state conventions. This group consists of SBC leaders who have responsibility in revitalization.

I currently lead the group as chair of the leadership team that includes David Ludwig (Pennsylvania-South Jersey), Sean Keith (Louisiana), Jason McNair (Utah/Idaho) and Ralph Neighbor (California).

Although many excellent definitions exist for church revitalization, we created the one below to provide guidance. We firmly believe that the revitalization of a local church is marked by the components in the following definition:

The supernatural work of God that restores health in a church, evidenced by submission to God's Word, right relationships among members, and a renewed commitment to Great Commission ministry.

(SBC Revitalization Network)

- 1 Revitalization is a supernatural work of God: Yes, we play a part, but ultimately it is the work of the Holy Spirit of God. Jesus said, "...I will build my church," (Matthew 16).
- 2 Revitalization restores health in a church: Churches in need of revitalization are almost always plagued with poor spiritual health.
- 3 Revitalization involves submission to the Scriptures: A key, repeated component of churches that experience revitalization is a renewed commitment to the authority of God's word.
- 4 Revitalization often involves conflict resolution and forgiveness: Struggling churches often have conflicts within and/or between members that have existed for years. Resolving those conflicts is paramount to a sustained season of church revitalization.

5 Revitalization focuses on the Great Commission: Churches desiring revitalization give proper place to The Great Commission, "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded," (Matthew 28:19-20, NKJV).

Studies show that as high as 70% of SBC churches are plateaued or declining. There are many prayers to be prayed and much work to be done if we are to see churches experience revitalization.

As part of our effort, the CCR Team released a book entitled, Lead to Revitalize: 15 Practices of a Revitalization Leader. If you have questions about revitalization, feel free to contact me directly.

Leading confident, capable volunteers BY MATT FLANAGAN

FLANAGAN

Volunteers are the lifeblood of effective ministry in our churches. Our careful leadership of these volunteers becomes a means of discipleship in their lives in addition to the young people in our ministries. One of the primary reasons that volunteers cease serving is not feeling equipped for the role they have been assigned. In addition to our personal investments, ministry leaders need to provide ongoing training for volunteer teams. These seven characteristics of training meetings will help you equip and maintain volunteers in healthy serving roles in the church.

REGULARITY

Regular and consistent training — even if infrequent — is essential to building a culture of volunteer participation. Consider quarterly or semester sessions to communicate the principle that ministry training is ongoing.

CONVENIENCE

Schedule training at convenient times for volunteers. If volunteers serve on a Wednesday night, plan the training sessions adjacent to their time already at church. Provide supervision and activities for the children to better serve these volunteers.

BREVITY

Start and conclude the sessions on time and be thoughtful so that you are not overplanning the content. My recommendation would be to schedule between 30-45 minutes. It is better to leave participants wanting more than exhaust their patience with a long meeting.

VISIONARY

Clearly communicate the “why” in every gathering. This may be a short part of the agenda, but the consistent and repetitive articulation of the church and ministry vision builds the context for the ministry assignments.

PRACTICAL

Teach ministry skills that help your volunteers feel confident and equipped in their roles. For example, your small group leaders for elementary age kids should learn skills that help them disciple and lead kids on a weekly basis.

RELATIONAL

Build community and healthy dialogue in your training sessions. Spend little to no time on items that can be communicated electronically. If someone misses a session and you can completely catch them up in an email, you are communicating that attendance is optional.

INFLUENTIAL

Volunteers feel value when they feel their voice and opinions matter. Craft thoughtful questions for your volunteers to respond and listen well. The Lord will strengthen your ministry through the observations of your volunteers.

Leading volunteers is never easy and often messy. Perhaps we think we could do more simply working alone. However, ministry leaders have been called to equip the saints (Eph 4:12) and not to replace the saints. Planning efficient and effective training for your volunteers will multiply your ministry.

Kentucky Baptist Women: Connected in Jesus Christ

BY SARA ROBINSON

ROBINSON

Kentucky Baptist Women exists so that women will believe in Jesus Christ, belong to communities of faithful women and become who they are in Christ. This year, we have reached over 1,500 women through church consultations, KBC-sponsored events and trainings and ministry wives' gatherings across the state. This sisterhood of women who gather at events and grow in Christlikeness is a joy to lead.

MEANINGFUL CONNECTIONS

If I had to choose a phrase to highlight the work of the Lord among women in Kentucky this year, my phrase would be "meaningful connections." It's been a joy to watch women's ministry leaders connect at events like Cultivate and the Lifeway Women's Leadership Forum. Minister's wives have built friendships at Radiant and through local meetups around the state. Many of our KBC churches have hosted retreats and conferences where women connect through Bible study, worship and fellowship. Kentucky Baptist Women are developing meaningful connections with one another that provide encouragement, prayer support and increased cooperation in kingdom work!

Kentucky Baptist women are also eager to grow in their faith and help others in the local church do the same. Women's ministry consults have doubled this year and attendance at the women's EQUIP sessions was remarkable. Learning to leverage generational influence among women in the church is an ongoing conversation and opportunity to unite women for kingdom purposes.

Women often represent more than half the attendees in the local church and they are excited to serve. I'd love to help identify ways women can contribute to ministry in the local church and equip women to serve with excellence in our Kentucky Baptist churches.

Compensation, retirement, financial integrity among services offered by KBC

BY DON SPENCER

SPENCER

The ways churches handle financial issues are different. Much of that difference is due to unique rules that apply to ministers and churches. Your Church Financial Benefits Department helps churches and ministers comply with those rules and adopt best practices in their handling of money.

While I will conduct a number of training conferences throughout the year, much of this is done through individual consultations, emails and phone calls. Each year I spend a day at many of our associations for individual appointments with folks in that area. Some of these appointments address tax and compensation issues unique to ministers. Others involve helping ministers and other church employees maximize their benefits in our denominational retirement plan. Our Church Retirement Plan offers advantages not available in other retirement plans.

My work includes training for individual churches. This often means training for churches when they are in the process of searching for a new minister. Periodically I will spend a day at some of our larger KBC churches that have multiple church employees in the GuideStone retirement plan. This involves meeting with the entire staff for plan updates and then consulting with individuals to review their participation.

I also provide guidance to treasurers and other church financial leaders as to ways to achieve and maintain financial integrity in their handling of finances and to make sure they are complying with IRS rules.

We stand ready to assist your church in dealing with the unique issues related to compensation, taxes, retirement planning and other financial issues that are unique to churches.

Regional consultants use their gifts to serve KBC churches

BY ALAN WITHAM

WITHAM

In 1 Peter 4:10-11 the apostle Peter writes, "As each has received a gift, use it to serve one another, as good stewards of God's varied grace: whoever speaks, as one who speaks oracles of God; whoever serves, as one who serves by the strength that God supplies — in order that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To him belong glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen."

In this passage, Peter reminds us to faithfully use our God given gifts to serve one another.

This past year I have been greatly encouraged as I have witnessed our regional consultants using their God-given gifts to serve Kentucky Baptists.

I witnessed our regional consultants leading 145 different training events.

I witnessed Jason Lowe utilize his gift of teaching to compose a book called the "Practical Preaching Handbook."

I witnessed Jeff Crabtree equip pastors in how to make the most of church space and facilities.

I witnessed Andy McDonald share Christ on numerous occasions in restaurants and how to share the gospel.

I witnessed Harold Best share the word effectively in pulpits across his region, sharing in revivals, supplying in Sunday services and preaching for special occasions.

I have witnessed Ian Carrico and his gift of encouragement expressed through listening, giving counsel and lifting up pastors and church leaders in his region.

What a joy it is to serve with a team of men who understand the need to faithfully use their gifts to glorify God and help Kentucky Baptist leaders and churches.

Celebrating church worship across Kentucky

BY JASON STEWART

STEWART

Church worship across Kentucky is thriving, with numerous events and initiatives bringing communities together in faith and song. This year has been particularly momentous, marked by the success of several key events that have enriched the spiritual lives of many.

One of the standout achievements has been the inaugural Worship Leader Bootcamp hosted by Clear Creek Baptist Bible College. This event provided a unique opportunity for worship leaders to enhance their skills, share experiences and grow in their ministry. The bootcamp was met with overwhelming enthusiasm, setting a strong foundation for future gatherings.

Additionally, the third annual Kentucky Student Worship Camp, held on the campus of Boyce College, saw attendance double once again. This camp has become a cornerstone event for young worship leaders, offering them a platform to develop their talents and deepen their faith. The growth in attendance is a testament to the camp's impact and the dedication of its organizers.

The Spring Children's Choir weekend, led by Roxanne Nanney and Lisa

Hussung, was another highlight. This event brought together children from various congregations, allowing them to express their faith through music. The weekend was filled with joy, learning and worship, leaving a lasting impression on all who participated.

As we celebrate these successes, we also encourage everyone to consider joining the Men's or Women's Chorale. These groups offer a wonderful opportunity to be part of a community that shares a passion for worship and music.

For more information about these events and how to get involved, please visit www.kybaptist.org/worship. Let us continue to pray for and support these vibrant expressions of worship across our state.

Daily time with God impacts your care

BY DARRYL WILSON

Has neglect in your relationship with God impacted your care for others? This happens to pastors, teachers and all of us. When neglect creeps in, acknowledge that fact and confess it.

Draw near to God (James 4:8). Ask for His help. Spend daily time with Him in His word and in prayer. Listen and follow where He leads.

Jesus died on the cross to pay the sin penalty for each of us. If you need a relationship with Jesus, ask His forgiveness for your sin and ask Him to give direction to your care and everything you do. Today is the day.

DAILY TIME WITH GOD

My friend, Dwayne McCrary, wrote a brief but important book entitled It Begins with Prayer. Dwayne writes: “Another interesting fact about sheep is they need to eat every day. One way a shepherd knows a sheep is sick or in distress is by observing its eating habits. Healthy sheep need and want to eat every day. Believers also need daily spiritual nourishment” (p. 10).

As His sheep, each day we need to feast on His word daily. Out of a fresh relationship with God in Bible study and prayer, we grow to love Him, obey Him and care for others in ways that honor Him and say, “I care!”

HONOR HIS LOVE FOR YOU

Will you ask Him to be your Savior and Lord? “If you confess with your mouth, ‘Jesus is Lord,’ and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved” (Romans 10:9, CSB). Invest daily time with God. Schedule time with Him in Bible study and prayer. Then listen and obey Him with all your heart. Grow as His disciple. Make disciples. Be revolutionary!

CARING: CARING FOR MEMBERS AND FRIENDS

If you, your Sunday School class or Bible study group needs to grow in your care for God, each other and friends, pick up a copy of my new book Caring: Caring for Members and Friends in Sunday School and Bible Study Groups.

Lifetime Leadership in Evangelism

We celebrate the legacy of God's ministry through Greg Farmer as the 2024 recipient of the Lifetime Leadership in Evangelism recognition. Born with a cleft palate speech impediment, Greg grew up afraid to talk in public settings, but displaying magic tricks gave him a voice. Then, as Farmer honed his illusional skills, he used that voice to share the word of God.

Greg graduated from Clear Creek Baptist Bible College and served as a youth minister and pastor before transitioning to vocational evangelism as a Christian illusionist. The Farmer family started a non-profit thrift store in Somerset — Twice as Nice — which provided the financial backing for Greg to speak at churches of any size, whether or not they could provide an honorarium.

He often booked 100 gospel shows yearly throughout the United States. He was voted Stage Magician of the Year by the Lexington, Ky., ring of the International Brotherhood of Magicians. Farmer was one of 10 acts chosen to perform on the Discovery Channel Showcase and was featured in The Voice of FCM, which is a national publication profiling the most renowned Christian illusionists in the country.

Although Greg went to be with the Lord in 2013, Twice as Nice continues to generate ministry funds, allowing The Greg Farmer Evangelist Ministries to award evangelism grants annually to ministries in the Lake Cumberland region and across Kentucky. These grants have helped fund KBC initiatives such as the Gospel to Every Home and Crossover.

The entire Farmer family was often parts of the act for illusions such as sawing his wife, Carolyn, in half or making his daughter, Laura, float. Greg's legacy continues through his son, G.J., who currently pastors Beacon Hill Baptist Church and will receive the award in his father's memory.

Cooperating for a harvest BY ROB PATTERSON

PATTERSON

Nothing fascinates me more than the pure joy fans experience when their teams win. I marveled during the college baseball World Series at people expending incredible sums of money, living and dying over every pitch, rooting for teams from colleges they never attended playing a game that most fans never personally played. Such is the nature of spectator sports, but when it comes to the Great Commission, every Kentucky Baptist has skin in the game.

Churches across Kentucky are reaping the fruits of faithful gospel-sowing labors, often not even their own. We rejoice over every new disciple baptized into the community of a local church. The baptisms reported through the annual church profile rebounded ahead of pre-pandemic levels, and every week we see baptisms in churches of all sizes. That's easy to celebrate. The baptism recognitions listed in this book of reports celebrate some of what God is doing but can only tell a small part of how your cooperative efforts are impacting eternity.

The regional directional team for Crossover: Hope for West Kentucky perfectly modeled the cooperative DNA of Kentucky Baptists. I've marveled as the pastors of some of our largest churches invested significant time coming alongside struggling churches to help them mobilize for evangelism.

Pastors of normative size churches brought incredible energy, wisdom and fresh ideas to the table. Several pastors whose churches are located well outside of Paducah loaded up vans of volunteers to canvass neighborhoods alongside sister churches. What a kingdom mindset!

Crossover is just one example. Churches have partnered to creatively engage community events with the gospel. Associations have mobilized churches for Love Loud and regional revivals. Multiple churches have worked together as Sending and Supporting Churches to see the church multiplied in underreached neighborhoods and among unreached peoples. Let's go, Kentucky Baptists!

The field to which God has called you may be difficult. You may find yourself removing stones and plowing hard ground. There's still cause for rejoicing. The kingdom is advancing. You are neither forgotten nor alone. Your Evangelism Team stands ready to encourage, equip and come alongside in your efforts to reach your community and county for Christ.

Together for the Mission from Pikeville to Paducah

BY ANDREW EATON

EATON

While these two well-known destinations make up a familiar Kentucky colloquialism, I have been recently reminded of another phrase; “From Murray to Prestonsburg.” Perhaps a little less used, but it is a journey of similar distance across our state — and just so happens to be the testimony of one of our Kentucky Baptist church replanters.

Josh McWherter and his family made the trek from Murray to Prestonsburg to serve as Kentucky Missionary Service Corps missionaries. But soon, in partnership with Allen Baptist Church, Josh found himself leading a replanting effort of the former Lancer Baptist Church, now affectionally named, The Branch Church. In June, The Branch Church gathered to celebrate its constitution as a brand-new church.

The reality is Kentucky Baptist churches from Pikeville to Paducah, Henderson to Harlan, and Florence to Franklin faithfully and strategically work together to see the church in Kentucky multiplied. Our collaborative cooperation is seeing leaders raised up, sent out, and planting or replanting churches in several different languages and contexts all across the commonwealth.

In 2024, we were blessed to see continued growth in church multiplication. A number of new planters and replanters began their journeys. We are working alongside faithful Kentucky Baptist partners to develop critical church planting and replanting needs. We established a new team of Church Multiplied coaches to train, encourage and resource our leaders and, finally, we are seeing an incredible display of partnership in many KBC churches praying for and supporting our works of multiplication.

By God’s grace and provision — and fueled by the faithful cooperation of Kentucky Baptist Churches — we will continue to see the Church Multiplied throughout the commonwealth.

Thank you for partnering and participating in this mission.

ANDREW EATON is the Church Planting group leader for the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at andrew.eaton@kybaptist.org or (502) 680-0567.

Church planter Josh McWherter has served as pastor of The Branch, formerly Lancer Baptist Church, in Prestonsburg since 2021. The church of about 50 members reported three baptisms in 2023.

Evangelism produces baptism

BY EDDIE TORRES

TORRES

Getsemani Hispanic Church, pastored by Bernardo Caballero, has experienced significant growth in recent years. Last year, it baptized 38 people — all new believers. When I interviewed the pastor in the summer, 12 people had already been baptized — again, all new believers.

According to Pastor Bernardo, because this church is growing and baptizing so many people, all new believers receive discipleship classes and become discipleship coaches. However, the pastor emphasized that all church members evangelize in their places of influence. That is the cornerstone of their growth and explains the pastor’s phrase, “Evangelism produces baptism.” According to the pastor, the key to engaging people in evangelism is to preach, teach and, most importantly, create a culture of evangelism within the church. This approach, he believes, is the most effective way to spread the message of Christ.

Pastor Bernardo also mentioned using materials produced by KBC for the baptism class. He described these materials as simple, yet effective, and expressed his gratitude to the Cooperative Program for enabling the creation of such impactful resources.

The pastor also mentioned the KBC’s evangelism event for ethnic groups.

This event is focused on training people in evangelism. This year, we worked with more than 10 different languages and expected more than 450 people from other cultures and countries to attend.

The pastor ended the interview this way. “We are constantly preaching that we have to share Christ,” said Pastor Bernardo. “There is an emphasis on preaching in evangelism. That makes people leave every Sunday loaded with the desire to share the good news of Christ with everyone they encounter.”

EDDIE TORRES is the multi-language evangelism strategist at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at eddie.torres@kybaptist.org or (502) 640-8747.

The DNA of Kentucky Baptist Campus Ministry: Evangelism—Discipleship—Missions (E-D-M) BY TOMMY JOHNSON

JOHNSON

What is the DNA of KyBCM? The essential fiber, or DNA, of BCM in Kentucky is Evangelism - Discipleship - Missions (E-D-M). Our core goal is to share the gospel with every student on every campus in Kentucky, to make disciples who make disciples and to help students learn to live on mission for Christ. Central to this vision is helping students connect with, become members of and serve in a local KBC church.

Why this DNA for BCM? Our heartbeat is to help students come to know and follow Christ so closely that they will continue to follow Him not only during college, but for a lifetime. Our goal is to prepare students to be on mission for Christ whether serving on the international field, on a church staff or in the marketplace. Our focus is to reach students with the gospel, help them grow as disciples and develop leaders for churches in Kentucky and beyond.

How does BCM instill an E-D-M DNA?

Brad is a WKU student from Chicago who came to WKU to run on the cross-country team. He was introduced to the gospel through a spiritual survey with the BCM and soon came to faith in Christ. Brad was then baptized and disciplined by Rich Pond Baptist Church. This summer he served on a BCM mission trip with IMB missionaries in Brazil. There he had the opportunity to preach the gospel in a church plant and on the streets in a neighborhood riddled with drug and gang activity. He is now studying Portuguese in preparation to return and minister further to that community. Brad's story is an example of E-D-M in action. Pray for BCMs to share the gospel with every student on every campus in Kentucky.

Making progress, one step at a time BY ERIC ALLEN

ALLEN

I had total knee replacement surgery earlier this year and it taught me the importance of incremental, one-step-at-a-time progress. My surgery was scheduled for early in the morning and I was expected to go home that afternoon. However, before the hospital would release me, I had to walk down a hallway and climb some stairs to prove I was ready. It wasn't easy, nor were the weeks of rehabilitation and physical therapy that would follow.

My long-term goal was to walk, work in the yard and play in the ocean with my grandkids without pain. Reaching my goal would require work and patient progress. I remember that first painful step, learning to use a walker, graduating to a cane and finally walking on my own without either. Those incremental steps were encouraging, and each one was progress toward my goal.

The Apostle Paul writes about pressing on toward a goal with the intent of capturing it (Phil. 3:14). Although the race he's running will not be complete until the resurrection and second coming of Christ, the future reward is worth the work Paul is putting forth now.

The Missions Mobilization Team had a goal last year to equip 1,375 people representing 400 churches to take their next missions step. We surpassed that goal because churches stepped up to the challenge, and we praise the Lord that 1,718 people representing 773 churches took that next step.

We were so excited and thankful to help as churches made progress toward fulfilling the Great Commission, including:

- Partnerships established between churches and missionaries on the field
- Mission trips planned and implemented
- Individuals trained and responded through disaster relief
- Missionaries answering the call were equipped to go
- Small groups adopted and cared for missionaries on the field
- Churches engaged their community through gospel-focused ministries
- Pastors were trained locally and internationally for ministry

I'm still healing from my knee replacement and making progress as I write this article. While I've not yet accomplished my goal to be pain free, I continue taking next steps knowing that if I'm faithful to keep working at it, I'll get there. God's desire is that the gospel will be presented to all people so that every tribe, nation and tongue will be represented before the Throne (Rev. 7:9). We haven't yet fulfilled the Great Commission to take the gospel to all the earth, but Kentucky Baptist churches are taking steps and making progress to that end.

Reaching our Jerusalem BY CORY BLEDSOE

BLEDSOE

Jesus says His followers will receive power through the Holy Spirit to be His witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth (Acts 1:8).

We can often forget that while some are called to other cities, other states and other countries, many of us are called to be His witnesses right here in the communities in which we live, work and go about our day-to-day lives.

As Christ reconciled us to Himself, He gave us the ministry of reconciliation (2 Corinthians 5:19). This ministry of reconciliation was not isolated to those in vocational ministry but given to the church of God at Corinth, with all the saints who were in the whole of Achaia (2 Corinthians 1:1). The call to missions is a universal call to all Christians.

The Kentucky Baptist Convention was created by churches, for churches, to help churches reach Kentucky and the world for Christ. As Kentucky Baptists, I want to offer four encouragements as you consider how to reach your Jerusalem, your own community right here in Kentucky, with the gospel of Jesus Christ:

- 1 Trust and rest in the knowledge that the Lord has given you power through the Holy Spirit to be His witnesses.
- 2 Take time to assess and learn about your community, specifically the needs of people within your community.
- 3 Assess the gifts, talents, skills and ministry interests of your congregation and determine avenues to help engage and meet the needs you have identified within your community.

- 4 Accept the call to make disciples, take a step of faith and, with the power of the Holy Spirit, go on mission!

Please feel free to contact me if you are interested in engaging your community, or throughout Kentucky, in missions.

I would be happy to assist in helping you or your church determine avenues to be His witnesses and fulfill the Great Commission, to the glory of God!

CORY BLEDSOE is the mobilization and community ministry associate with the Missions Mobilization Team at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at cory.bledsoe@kybaptist.org or (423) 782-7351.

Bringing help, hope and healing to people in Crisis

BY RON CROW

CROW

Kentucky Baptist Disaster Relief (KYDR) is made up of people from across the commonwealth who love the Lord and are moved with compassion, just like Jesus, to care for those in crisis. When disaster strikes, large or small, crisis needs arise and KYDR volunteers are ready to respond.

The KYDR ministry demonstrates the call to missions as noted in Titus 3:14, "And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful."

We bring HELP. Kentucky Baptists have been so generous to provide resources that allow us to bring help to those in crisis. Those resources are the volunteers from our KBC churches who answer the call to go and serve, provide generous gifts to support the responses to those in crisis and equipment to provide the help needed.

We bring HOPE. "... Christ in you, the hope of glory," (Col. 1:27). The act of bringing help opens the door to share the hope of eternal life through Jesus Christ.

We bring HEALING. When survivors of disaster are overwhelmed by the crisis of destruction, emotional stress and physical exhaustion, the presence of others and a listening ear can initiate the healing process.

The Cooperative Program is also demonstrated in tangible ways as we partner together in ministry. KYDR has served more than 1,600 volunteer days; 13,000 volunteer hours; provided help for more than 150 families in 30 communities and six states, as well as Puerto Rico and Cape Town, South Africa. Those opportunities allowed us to see 650 ministry contacts, 123 gospel conversations, 150 Bibles distributed and one salvation.

Kentucky Baptists are blessed to have some of the most dedicated, faithful and compassionate servants who bring help, hope and healing to people in crisis. I give thanks often for such sweet and wonderful servants. Consider joining this family of faithful servants by visiting kybaptist.org/dr.

A matter of the heart

BY DOUG WILLIAMS

WILLIAMS

Have you ever sneezed so hard you threw your heart out of rhythm? Well, I have! Sounds a bit crazy, doesn't it? I remember that day like it was yesterday. At the time, I was a Kentucky

Baptist pastor and, on this particularly normal day, I was doing what pastors do almost daily — I was preparing for my weekly sermon. And then I sneezed. Immediately my heart went into atrial fibrillation.

While I didn't know what had just happened, my heart was racing at the speed of a NASCAR engine and, at the same time, flipping and flopping like a fish out of water. To say that I was scared is an understatement. Through a series of tests, medications and eventually being cardioverted, my heart went back into normal rhythm by God's grace.

"I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh."

— Ezekiel 36:26

The heart is an incredible organ created by an even more incredible God. A healthy heart is vital for life. The Bible understands the importance of the heart. In fact, the Bible emphatically speaks of people needing new hearts (Ezek 36:26). The universal problem of sin kills every human heart (Rom 3:23; 6:23). Only a sovereign God can perform spiritual heart surgery on stony hearts (Act 16:14).

Missions is about the one answer to the universal problem of sin — new hearts come through Jesus. Yet, only as the message of Jesus is shared will hearts be changed (Rom 10:14-15). The message goes out and changes hearts only as we go out with the message.

The Missions Mobilization Team is here to help your church connect with missionaries who are going across North America and the nations bringing the message of the gospel to people in need of new hearts. Learn ways to experience these opportunities in 2025 at www.kybaptist.org/msp. It really is a matter of the heart.

God wants our hearts and our obedience

BY JOB JUAREZ

JUAREZ

Genesis 12 gives us an account of Abraham's call. Most of you have heard the story and are familiar with its elements. However, many also forget how God's call to Abraham includes a divine invitation into the unknown.

The Father invites Abraham to action in a location "soon to be disclosed." Abraham does not get details of his relocation other than God's intent to use him for His glory. And, as Genesis tells us, Abraham obeyed, followed the Lord and "departed as instructed." Abraham's call is a reminder to all of us that God is not concerned with what we know or what we can do, he wants our hearts and our obedience.

Abraham understood that the possibilities of our lives are neither determined nor static. These possibilities are not fixed by what we believe our abilities are, nor by what others may think we are "good at." What we can do and what we must do is determined by a call, God's call, that comes from outside of ourselves. Missions, the advancement of the Great Commission, is an ideal endeavor to break free from our perceived limitations and to place them within God's frame of reference. When you and I respond to the task of making Jesus known, we step into divine possibilities, possibilities that will forever change you, your church, your community and the world. It only takes one step, a step into the unknown.

If you want to join God in transforming the world for His glory, we will be honored to help you and your church think through your Great Commission strategies and to learn more about our domestic and international partnerships.

JOB JUAREZ is a missions strategist with the Missions Mobilization Team at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. He can be reached at job.juarez@kybaptist.org.

"The Lord had said to Abram, 'Leave your native country, your relatives, and your father's family, and go to the land that I will show you.' So, Abram departed as the Lord had instructed," — Genesis 12:1,4a.

Clear Creek Baptist Bible College: 98 and growing

BY CHARLIE GOODMAN

GOODMAN

Clear Creek Baptist Bible College is now celebrating 98 years of ministry in higher education by providing “Education for Christian Service” to those called by God to do ministry.

On behalf of our campus family, I would like to thank you for your Cooperative Program support. CP support helps us keep tuition costs affordable for those God calls to ministry training. That support is why Clear Creek is continually ranked as one of the most affordable fully accredited Bible colleges. Specifically, 99% of our students graduate debt-free. At Clear Creek, we put students in ministry, not in debt.

In campus news, we just completed a $1.4 million renovation of Moore Hall. It will now be utilized as a camp and conference center that can house 130 individuals. We held our graduation ceremony this past May in our newly-renovated chapel on our beautiful campus. This year’s commencement was a wonderful time of celebration. Our graduates are already, or will be, serving in ministry areas such as pastoral ministry, missions, church planting, music ministry, youth ministry and para-church ministries.

We are rejoicing that our student enrollment is the largest since 2005. Moreover, for the first time in our history, we have experienced three straight years of student growth. By any metric, Clear Creek is in a tremendous season of growth. This fall, we launched new undergraduate degrees in Biblical Studies and Christian Apologetics. Additionally, Dan Summerlin, who needs no introduction to Kentucky Baptists, along with Kevin Kennedy and Craig Mitchell, who both have extensive experience teaching in the classroom of Southern Baptist seminaries, have been added to our graduate faculty. We have also launched a job board on our website for churches to place openings for ministerial positions.

Clear Creek is not a Bible college in name only. Every B.A. student at Clear Creek will take at least 32 hours of Bible, making Clear Creek the clear choice for those who want to study the Bible and be thoroughly equipped to use it as the foundation for all their ministry endeavors.

Clear Creek is an educational entity that operates on three guiding precepts. We are biblical, practical and missional.

As such, this past academic year, our students were involved in 2,602 opportunities to share the gospel through various ministry endeavors, which resulted in 297 professions of faith, 281 baptisms, 66 rededications and three surrendered to vocational ministry. It can be clearly seen that Clear Creek is both highly scholastic and uniquely practical.

There is always a lot going on at Clear Creek, so I encourage you to follow us on social media. We are proud to be in covenant partnership with the Kentucky Baptist Convention. Thanks for all you do to help us fulfill the mission God has entrusted to Clear Creek Baptist Bible College.

CHARLIE R. GOODMAN is president of Clear Creek Baptist Bible College. He can be reached at president@cbbc.edu or (606) 337-1530.

CROSSINGS: Another record-breaking summer

BY LANCE HOWERTON

HOWERTON

Crossings exists to create experiences to proclaim the gospel, and we celebrate more than 875 souls who crossed over from death to life this summer. God continues to bless Crossings as we seek to serve him. 1,589 students expressed a call to ministry this summer. We celebrate what God is doing and how He continues to bless Crossings.

The summer of 2024 has been another record-breaking year. This was our largest summer, with 23,818 campers at all our camps across Kentucky, Maryland and Tennessee.

This summer, like with the Maryland/Delaware convention, we began a partnership with the Tennessee Baptist Convention. We held a week of student and kid camps at each conference center and are adding a session in 2025 at its Linden Valley Conference Center.

We continue to serve eastern Kentucky by partnering with East Bernstadt Baptist Church, Clear Creek Baptist Bible College, Canonsburg Baptist Church and Creekside in Pikeville to bring Day Camp to students who could not afford to attend one of our property camps.

With a passion for ensuring students know about our SBC missions organizations and encouraging our summer missionary staff to serve, we began a partnership with the International Mission Board. Our goal is to raise over $600,000 over the next five years for the work in Panama, help fund two mission trips a year and see 10 of our summer missionaries serve on the field in the coming year.

This past year, we invested over $1 million in our two properties. At Jonathan Creek, we remodeled Lone Oak Lodge and Lassiter Conference Center and purchased a home for one of our full-time staff. At Cedarmore we expanded the Shack, and at Cedarcrest we demolished the old dining hall and built a new pavilion.

With more than 6,000 on the waiting list last August, we took a significant step forward by breaking ground on a 184-bed lodge at Jonathan Creek. This new facility, equipped with two indoor meeting spaces and four outdoor, will not only accommodate more students but also enhance their experience. The addition of approximately 240 seats to our worship center further demonstrates our commitment to growth and the spread of the gospel. Along with the new lodge, we are expanding the wastewater plant and making some changes to the dining hall. Our total investment will be $4 million. There is so much to be thankful for as God continues to bless Crossings. Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

LANCE HOWERTON serves as president of Crossings Ministries in Louisville. He can be reached at lhowerton@gocrossings.org or (502) 491-7000.

Funding ministry in Kentucky and beyond

BY FRENCH HARMON

HARMON

The Kentucky Baptist Foundation (KBF) is inspired by Matthew 5:16, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father in heaven." With our "Brighter Initiative," the KBF seeks to connect, create and contribute to the advancement of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. The 2023-2024 ministry year was very strong in connecting with Kentucky Baptist (KBC) church leaders, creating new opportunities for investment and contributing to the ongoing needs throughout the commonwealth of Kentucky.

The Kentucky Baptist Foundation exists to serve Kentucky and Southern Baptist-related churches, associations, institutions and agencies, as well as certain other non-profit organizations. Since it was established in 1945, the KBF has distributed more than $226 million to Baptist causes in the commonwealth and around the world. Last year alone we distributed more than $7.5 million. In the current academic year, more than $100,000 in scholarships were awarded to 57 KBC students across Kentucky. In addition, the KBF has programs in place to assist additional students annually to make our grand total for next academic year $168,000 in scholarship money for KBC college students.

The KBF partners with Financial Planning Ministry (FPM) to offer estate planning seminars to Kentucky Baptist churches. To date, KBF has completed three FPM estate planning seminars. David Hess (FPM) and KBF attorneys Austin Wilkerson and Randy Gibson have worked diligently to create a great experience for church members.

The Gospel Impact Fund (GIF) continues to be a profound outreach ministry tool for the KBF. It has assisted in the drilling of 30 water wells in Southeast Asia; it has helped to purchase new Avant articulating wheel loader for the KBC Disaster Relief Team; and it has assisted with a mission trip to Tanzania.

The KBF staff expanded this year by adding a new senior accountant, Lynette James. KBF office staff now includes seven full-time employees and one part-time employee. KBF assets under management have grown to a new total of $270 million! We are excited to report that $11 million in new funds were added during the last year.

The KBF is grateful that it continues to serve churches in Ohio, Maryland and Delaware. Customized programs have been created to assist churches in these states. The KBF manages the assets of each of these respective foundations of nearly $15 million and meets regularly with board members.

Faith to follow

BY LARRY GRITTON

GRITTON

In the January 1924 issue of The Oneida Mountaineer, OBI Founder James Anderson Burns recalled, “From every viewpoint of human reason this enterprise would certainly be a dismal failure. We were 40 miles from any railroad. We had no friends, no money, no influence. The ‘Baker-Howard Feud’ was raging all around us. ... Truly, our only hope was in God who had, ‘according to his own purpose,’ given us faith enough to ‘walk blind, to the darkness before from the darkness behind.’”

With great effort and prayer, Burns set out in 1899 to gather the people and resources needed to build the first school building, opening the doors to education and hope for the children of eastern Kentucky. Just one year after the school opened, a donor provided Oneida’s first brick building with a gift of $5,000. Several more such providential gifts allowed for the expansion of the school, but it was smaller gifts from faithful friends and churches that kept the doors open.

DIVINE CONNECTIONS

OBI’s relationship with the “General Association of Baptists in Kentucky” began in 1919 when the organization provided a $50,000 grant for an endowment.

In 1946, OBI entered a covenant agreement with the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

At the annual meeting in 1994, the Kentucky Baptist Convention approved the annual Barkley Moore Father’s Day Offering named in honor of OBI’s ninth president. Dr. Moore once said, “Every school deals with the mind of man but there are few schools which, like Oneida, deal with the soul as well. If ever there was a need for educated people and for strong Christian character, today is the day.” As in her early days, Oneida exists because of the support from kingdom people who share the vision of changing lives through Christian education.

WE PRESS ON

In 2023-2024, OBI was blessed to see answered prayer in a 15% increase in enrollment over the previous year. More students require more staff, and God has been faithful to meet this need. We hosted both the district basketball tournament and a home track meet, thanks to campus improvements like two new parking lots and a new track and field.

The improvements were made possible by a large gift from Bob Walker, a descendent of John Henry Walker, the first college graduate to join OBI’s faculty.

A KBC grant enabled us to finish the courtyard space between the girls’ and boys’ dormitories. Classroom renovations in Baker Hall were completed in time for the 2024-2025 school year.

Our greatest privilege in 2023-2024 was to learn that 25+ students made professions of faith in Jesus Christ.

Words written by Rev. D. Chester Sparks, OBI’s seventh president from 1948-1962, ring true today: “Education alone could never have changed our mountain conditions but education plus the Grace of God in the hearts of men, have and are bringing the needed changes. ... And you, my friend, helped to make Oneida possible.” Your generosity enables us to provide an Education for Time and Eternity.

LARRY GRITTON is president of Oneida Baptist Institute in Oneida, Ky.

We are Mission Kentucky BY LIZ ENCINIA

ENCINIA

In 2023, Kentucky WMU championed a unifying effort to rally together for the sake of the gospel. Our theme for the Eliza Broadus Offering for State Missions, "We are Mission KY," set the stage and sounded the call for Kentucky Baptists to labor with more fervor than ever.

We are happy to report that we met the '23-'24 state goal four months early. As of June 18, 2024, we raised $1,267,918.73 for state missions. Because of your above and beyond generosity, the Kentucky WMU Executive Board will be able to disburse additional funds to support ministries/missions efforts around Kentucky.

We have witnessed countless leaders laboring for the cause of Christ in our local churches and associations. As we attended associational/network meetings with Lynn, Lake Cumberland, Elkhorn and Wayne Association, we saw ordinary people being used to plant churches, train up children to live on mission and equip women for their unique role in the Great Commission.

We met with women from FBC Hodgenville, Erlanger Baptist Church, Bethel Baptist Church and FBC Lawrenceburg, and were encouraged to see continued commitment to the Lord's work. Joe Ball met with men from around the state eager to infuse missions into their men's ministry.

We have seen college women grow more interested in WMU and how they, too, can use their gifts to serve the kingdom. Their excitement to be involved in WMU led us to create more opportunities for serving in the WMU office and around the state at many of our events.

We have engaged 1,437 children, teenagers and adults in missions around the commonwealth. Through ministries like Changers, Explore, Thrive and Proclaim, Kentucky Baptists – no matter their age – were challenged to personally identify their role in fulfilling the Great Commission.

We supported 16 students called to missions and ministry work with scholarships. We helped 155 missions leaders find tools and materials to encourage their churches to participate in God's missions plan. Two hundred forty seven members of Kentucky WMU gathered in Hopkinsville to celebrate what God is doing in and through Kentucky Baptist Missions.

We committed to support six newly appointed KBC MSC missionaries. We elected Linda Cooper (Bowling Green) as president, Claudia Greenwood (Gray) as vice-president and Sherry Hendrix (Harlan) as recording secretary as the officers of the Kentucky WMU Executive Board.

We are excited to see churches restart missions discipleship groups in their church and find new exciting ways to teach and engage their church in missions.

Thank you for your support of Kentucky WMU as we remain faithful to championing the Great Commission and engaging disciples of Jesus to live on mission in Kentucky and throughout the world.

Sunrise believes every child deserves a home

BY DALE SUTTLES

SUTTLES

“Jesus said, ‘Let the little children come to me,’” (Matthew 19:14a, NIV). Every child deserves a home. Tragically, that is not the case for thousands of children in Kentucky. Kids are sleeping in offices. Without homes. With no one to love them. Hopeless. For these kids, the cycle of abuse and neglect will continue. Unless something changes.

That is why Sunrise was committed to making a difference in fiscal year 2023. We served 1,228 children and adults across Kentucky, responding to the 8,352 children placed in out-of-home care by the state. We completed 18 adoptions, celebrating our 631st adoption since the start of the program in 2006. And we were proud to report four rededications, 10 professions of faith and 29 baptisms.

We also partnered with Orphan Care Alliance to begin the Life Coaching Program at our Spring Meadows Center in Mount Washington. In this program, after an adult completes the training, he then meets weekly with one of our Spring Meadows boys to build a relationship, provide encouragement, help set goals and be a strong positive role model.

Beginning in Williamstown and moving across the state, Sunrise leadership held “Lunch and Learns” during fiscal year 2023, inviting area pastors and community leaders to hear about the foster care crisis in Kentucky and share with their churches and groups. Special emphasis was on finding seasoned foster parents who could effectively care for teenagers, sibling groups and even medically complex boys and girls.

We are grateful for the support and encouragement of our board of directors who are approved by the Kentucky Baptist Convention. They share our commitment to helping every child find a home. The current board members are:

Benita Decker (chair),
Matt Shamblin (vice chair),
Billy Lyons (treasurer),
Connor Alford, Abram Crozier,
Rodney Cude, Cheryl Edmondson,
Barry Fields, Teresa Hail,
Roberta Kiser, Michael Lyons,
Chip Pendleton, Nick Sandefur,
Stan Spees, Dan Summerlin,
David Tucker, Andrew Weeks,
Milkweed Wotier,
Martin Yancey and Todd Gray (ex officio member).

Since 1869, Sunrise has provided care and hope for hurting families and children through Christ-centered ministries. Why? Because our kids deserve it.

We remain thankful for all of our churches who stand with us as we provide for, defend and protect the children in our care. Every child is worth it. Every child deserves a home.

ARTICLE I

This Body shall be called the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

ARTICLE II

The Body was created by churches, for churches, to help churches reach Kentucky and the world for Christ.

ARTICLE III

This Body shall meet annually according to adjournment, but in case of emergency the President may call a special session with the advice and consent of the Mission Board, or two-thirds of the members of the Board present and voting may call a special session.

ARTICLE IV

The Body shall consist of messengers who are members of Baptist churches cooperating with the Convention as follows:

- (1) One (1) messenger from each church which: (1) Is in friendly cooperation with the Convention and sympathetic with its purposes and work. Churches in cooperation with the Convention are understood by the Convention to be local congregations of scripturally baptized believers in general agreement with any of the historic Baptist confessions of faith (By way of example, churches which act to affirm, approve, or endorse homosexual behavior would be deemed not to be in cooperation with the Convention.) And (2) Has been a bona fide contributor through the Cooperative Program during the fiscal year preceding.
- (2) One (1) additional messenger from each such church for every two hundred [and] fifty (250) resident members; or for each $250.00 contributed through the Cooperative Program during the fiscal year preceding.
- (3) The messengers shall be appointed and certified by the churches to the Convention, but no church may appoint more than ten (10).
- (4) Ballots shall be issued to each messenger at the time of registration, and only registered messengers present shall be eligible to vote on business matters brought to the Convention.

ARTICLE V

- (1) On the occasion of its annual meeting the Body shall elect by ballot, a president, a first and second vice president, a secretary and one assistant secretary. Their duties shall be such as custom imposes upon such officers. They shall hold office until their successors are duly installed at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Body. No president shall be eligible to succeed himself in office. The President and the Vice Presidents and Secretaries of the Convention shall be the officers of the Mission Board of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.
- (2) Persons to be nominated as officers of the Kentucky Baptist Convention must be consulted and permission secured before their names are placed in nomination.

ARTICLE VI

- (1) The doctrinal guideline for this Body and its work shall be the Baptist Faith and Message as adopted and amended by the Southern Baptist Convention, understanding that any cooperating affiliated church has the right to affirm any of the historic Baptist confessions of faith. We also believe that God wonderfully and immutably creates each person as either male and female, and that these two distinct, complementary sexes together reflect the image and nature of God (Gen. 1:26-27). The attempted rejection of one's biological sex is an attempted rejection of the image of God within that person.
- (2) This Body has no jurisdiction over the local churches or the District Associations and shall exercise no authority over them.

ARTICLE VII

- (1) The Mission Board of this body shall consist of members from each cooperating District Association plus eight at-large members from the geographical regions of the state. The Mission Board membership from the associations shall consist of one member from each cooperating District Association with a resident church membership of five thousand or less, and one more member for each additional five thousand resident church members, as reported in

"Resident church membership" and "resident church members" shall be defined as members of Baptist churches cooperating with the convention as described in Article IV." Each District Association shall nominate two persons for each membership on the Board of whom one shall be elected. - (2) The eight at-large members shall be elected from any cooperating affiliated Baptist church. These members shall be nominated by the Committee on Nominations of the Convention.
- (3) Members of the Mission Board shall be at the time of their nomination, and throughout their term of service if elected, members of cooperating affiliated churches as defined in Article IV of this Constitution. Should at any time a Mission Board member's church membership cease to be in a cooperating affiliated church, the Mission Board member will be considered as having resigned from the Board.
- (4) All members of the Board shall be elected by the Kentucky Baptist Convention for a term of three years, except those who are selected to fill the vacancies. Vacancies result from death, resignation, or moving from the district association. A move within the state of an at-large member does not constitute a need for a change in regional representation. No member shall be eligible for re-election for one year after his term has expired except one who has been elected to fill an unexpired term. Members serving two (2) years and six (6) months shall be considered as serving a full three-year term. - (2) The Mission Board shall not contravene any Convention action.
- (3) The Mission Board shall neither create, accept nor release any institution or agency for the Kentucky Baptist Convention, unless so instructed by the Convention. The existence of an emergency in connection with an institution or agency shall be determined by a majority vote of the Mission Board in session, and the Board shall make recommendation to the Convention with reference to the emergency.
- (4) The Mission Board shall make a report to the annual Convention. At least thirty days prior to this meeting the Board shall publish through the Convention's official print and electronic media its recommendations except in an emergency that may arise thereafter.

ARTICLE IX

- (1) No person shall be eligible to serve at the same time on more than one Board of Trustees or Directors of any agency or institution in Kentucky fostered and supported by the Kentucky Baptist Convention, except the Mission Board of the Convention, its partnering organizations, and auxiliaries, and shall not be eligible for election or appointment until he has been a member of a Kentucky Baptist church for at least one calendar year prior to nomination or appointment, and shall not be eligible for re-election after serving two full terms until having been out of office at least one full year, except the Kentucky Baptist colleges may have a maximum of eight (8) trustees per college from outside the state; these trustees to be nominated from candidates who are members in good standing of cooperating Baptist churches in their respective states.
- (2) Members of Boards of agencies and institutions shall be considered as having served a full term if they serve at least to a date six (6) months short of the full term. A full term defined differently in an agency or institution constitution, or articles of incorporation shall be the prevailing definition. Vacancies on boards which occur between Kentucky Baptist Convention annual sessions may be filled by the Mission Board as the Convention ad interim upon recommendation of candidates by the Committee on Nominations. These actions shall be ratified at the Convention's next annual session.

- (3) With the exception of the Executive Director-Treasurer, employees of the Mission Board or any agency or institution of the Convention shall be ineligible to serve as members of the Mission Board or on a Board of Trustees or Directors of any agency or institution fostered and supported by the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

ARTICLE X

The President of the Convention and the Executive Director-Treasurer shall be ex-officio members of all committees.

ARTICLE XI

This Constitution may be altered or amended (except Article VI) by the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present at any annual meeting, one year's notice having been given to the proposed alteration or amendment.

- 4 It shall be the duty of the incoming president of the Kentucky Baptist Convention to designate annually the chairman of each duly elected committee, with no chairman eligible to succeed himself and no member eligible for a successive term. The Mission Board, according to ARTICLE VII of the Constitution, “Shall have charge of the work of the Kentucky Baptist Convention between its annual sessions and shall appoint all officers and agencies that may be required in its work.”

1. The Mission Board shall consist of members to include appropriate representatives from the associations of the state and one (1) at-large member from each of the eight (8) regions of the state, and these shall be elected by messengers to the Kentucky Baptist Convention in regular session, in accord with its adopted plan.
2. Vacancies on the Mission Board are filled by action of the Kentucky Baptist Convention during its annual session. If, at the close of the annual meeting of the convention, vacancies still exist, the Mission Board, on nominations from the Committee on Nominations of the Kentucky Baptist Convention, may fill interim vacancies from the appropriate associations. A Board member who moves from one association to another within the state during the year remains on the Board until his successor is elected or his term expires.

The Committee on Constitution and Bylaws interprets Article VII to mean that

- one’s service on the Mission Board is measured in total time served whether or not the person has held residence in one or more associations. Members are therefore still limited to a single three-year term plus an unexpired term as now stated in Article VII (Nov. 13, 1986).
3. The president, both vice presidents, and secretaries of the Kentucky Baptist Convention shall serve as members of the Board.
4. The past president of the Kentucky Baptist Convention shall serve a one-year term as an at-large member of the Board.
5. The president of the Woman’s Missionary Union shall serve as ex-officio member of the Board.

Placement Committee members shall be drawn from the memberships of the other five committees.
- The officers of the Board shall be available to serve as consultants or to assist any committee upon assignment by the Board chairperson.
8. The Placement Committee shall prepare nominations as to the committee assignments for presentation at the Board’s December meeting. Additional nominations may be made at other Board meetings as needed.
9. Members of the standing committees shall be elected by the Board at its December meeting. Committee replacements for vacancies which occur throughout the year may be voted on at any other meeting of the Board.
10. The Placement Committee, in making nominations for appointment to a standing committee, shall have the authority to increase or decrease the size of a committee up to five (5) members.

11. The Administrative Committee of the Mission Board shall be comprised of twelve (12) Board members—the chairpersons of the six standing committees and six members-at-large. The members-at-large shall be elected by the Board after receiving nominations from the Placement Committee.
12. The chairperson of the Mission Board shall name the chairpersons of all standing committees and the chairperson of the Administrative Committee of the Board in consultation with the Executive Director-Treasurer. The chairperson of the Administrative Committee shall be chosen from the twelve (12) members.
13. The chairperson of the Mission Board shall be an ex-officio member of all committees of the Board. The Executive Director-Treasurer shall be an ex-officio (nonvoting) member of all committees of the Board.

Baptist Convention in November. The Board shall meet at least three times per year: in December, May and just prior to the annual Convention meeting.

15. Attendance Policy: All members of this Mission Board shall commit themselves to participation in the three Board meetings annually unless providentially hindered, giving notice of such absences to the secretary of the Mission Board, and removing themselves from the Board by resignation when circumstances prevent regular attendance of these meetings. Participation in these meetings is crucial to the effective working of this Mission Board for the fulfillment of the purposes of the convention body.

A Board member's absence without notice from two of the three Board meetings in a service year shall be verified by the secretary of the Board with the intent to ascertain the Board member's desire and ability to attend future Mission Board meetings for the remainder of the member's term.

16. The Board shall be responsible for advising the Convention on the total program of Kentucky Baptists except on matters assigned by the Convention to specific committees, and for directing the programs specifically assigned to it.

17. The doctrinal guideline for the Mission Board and its work shall be the Baptist Faith and Message as adopted and amended by the Southern Baptist Convention.

18. The rules contained in the most current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern the Mission Board in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the Constitution and Bylaws of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

19. The Mission Board shall make an annual report to the Kentucky Baptist Convention. Any recommendations to be presented to the Convention by the Mission Board shall be published in Kentucky Today thirty (30) days prior to the annual meeting except in an emergency that may arise thereafter.

20. The following statements on size and duties of the six (6) standing committees and the Administrative Committee are a part of the organizational plan of the Board.

21. Electronic meetings of committees may be authorized by the chairman, provided that the electronic medium used gives opportunity for simultaneous aural communication among all participating members equivalent to those of meetings held in one room or area.

22. Changes to the Organization of the Mission Board document may be made by the Mission Board, requiring only a simple majority vote for passage.

AGENCIES & INSTITUTIONS COMMITTEE

The Agencies and Institutions Committee shall be composed of twenty (20) members. The committee shall meet twice a year and, when needed, upon the call of the chairperson through the Executive Director-Treasurer.

The committee shall organize itself by electing a vice chairperson to chair the committee in the absence of the chairperson and a secretary. The committee shall establish such work groups as may facilitate its work. Normally, work groups will report to the committee. The committee shall make reports and recommendations to the Mission Board. Signed copies of all minutes of the committee shall be filed with the office of the Executive Director-Treasurer as part of the permanent files of the Board.

The committee works with the agency (Kentucky Baptist Foundation), institutions (Clear Creek Baptist Bible College, Kentucky Baptist Assemblies, Sunrise Children's Services and Oneida Baptist Institute), partnering organizations (Baptist Healthcare System and Kentucky Ethics League), and auxiliary (Kentucky Woman's Missionary Union).

1. The committee shall seek to maintain and strengthen proper working relationships between the Mission Board and the individual boards of the agencies and institutions and their interrelationships.

2. The committee shall receive, as often as feasible, an in-depth report of the work of the individual agencies and institutions. The presentation of such reports shall include time for questions and discussion. The committee shall make whatever follow-up it deems appropriate.

3. The committee may make recommendations to the Mission Board concerning the Mission Board's relationship, policies and programs affecting the agencies and institutions.

4. The committee shall assist the agencies and institutions in cultivating the interest and support of the programs of the agencies and institutions.

5. The committee shall cooperate with Southern Baptist Convention agencies and our District Associations in promoting church support of the state agencies and institutions.

6. The committee shall study, as needed, all aspects of the relationships of Kentucky Baptists with the Southern Baptist Convention, its agencies, and other Baptist bodies in areas of work and interest assigned to the Convention's agencies and institutions and may recommend appropriate actions.
